Annelies, the Voice of Anne Frank

The Tower Chorale is proud to announce their March concerts featuring Annelies, the Voice of Anne Frank. In 2005, Grammy-nominated composer James Whitbourn set excerpts from The Diary of Anne Frank to music. The 80 voice Tower Chorale, with soprano Jessica Louise Coe, will perform this powerful work at the Christian Reformed Church of Western Springs on March 5 and at Concordia Chapel, in River Forest, on March 12.

"I absolutely love Anne's diary for the hope she continues to inspire, and I love Whitbourn's inventive compositional style," said Tower Chorale Music Director Patrick Godon. "It is a beautiful, moving, and unique work - one that we are honored to give voice to in our concerts."

Soloist Jessica Louise Coe and the Chorale will be accompanied by members of the International Chamber Artists. In addition to his preparations for the Annelies concerts, Godon recently returned from a European tour as keyboardist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

The Tower Chorale is celebrating its 31st year as one of the premier choral groups in the Chicago area. In addition to the Annelies concerts, the Chorale will present Dream a Little Dream in May. Dream a Little Dream will feature songs from the Great American Songbook focusing on hopes and dreams.
